3. Summary

A total of 221 potential conflicts of interests were identified, most of which will be avoided or eliminated by not rating the entity involved, or by excluding people who had the conflict from participating in any stage of the rating process, or by withdrawing an existing rating:

- 180 potential conflicts are related to modefinance ownership structure.
- 28 potential conflicts are related to single analysts or other employees.
- 13 potential conflicts are related to clients of modefinance ancillary services which generated a relevant share of turnover in the last 12 months.

modefinance has all the necessary procedures and internal controls in order to avoid, for these entities, or that a rating process may start or, in cases of personal conflicts, that people who had the conflict is excluded from the participation to any stage of the rating process.

modefinance has put in place adequate internal control mechanisms on the collection of information reported in the present inventory of conflicts as well.
